Waiver: I know that running and volunteering to work in club races are potentially hazardous activities. I should not enter and run in club activities unless I am medically able and properly trained. I agree to abide by any decision of a race official relative to my ability to complete the run. I assume all risks associated with running and volunteering to work in club races including but not limited to, falls, contact with other participants, the effects of the weather, including high heat and/or humidity, the condition of the roads and traffic on the course, all such risks being known and appreciated by me. Having read this waiver and knowing these for myself and anyone entitled to act on my behalf, I waive and release the insurers of GWTC, the Gulf Winds Track Club, Inc., and all sponsors, their representatives and successors from all claims or liabilities of any kind arising out of my participation in these club activities even though that liability may arise out of negligence or carelessness on the part of the persons named in this waiver. I agree this waiver will continue to be valid each time I join or rejoin the club.

Gulf Winds Overview

In the beginning .. The Club emerged from Tallahassee runners, led by Jeff Galloway, 1972 Olympic 10,000 meter runner. During the early months of 1974, a group including Dick Roberts, Mike Long and Dr. Herb Wills met and discussed the idea of a “grass roots community organization to conduct local running events”. In early 1975 the name “Gulf Winds Track Club” became official and Galloway was chosen Club president. By 1977 the Club was incorporated as a nonprofit organization and joined the Road Runners Club of America, the national organization of running clubs.

Today's Club includes joggers, runners, race walkers and triathletes of all levels of ability and training, whether they participate for competition, fitness or personal and social enjoyment. Our newsletters, social meetings and lecture series inform members of local and regional events and foster the exchange of information about training. Among our most valued members are those who encourage others by volunteering at our events.
